International ONLINE Competition for Young Flutists 2021

Following the great popularity and worldwide interest in the 2020 competition, the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Flöte e.V. is once again announcing a International Online Competition for young flutists in 2021.

The aim of this competition is to give young flutists the chance to present their skills on an international platform, to compete with colleagues of their age, to develop and present their individual strengths. This includes key competences such as instrumental and artistic skills, stage presence and individual presentation. This will strengthen and enhance the international dimension of activities in the youth field. Through differentiated international jury feedback, participants will be encouraged to improve the quality of their performance and thus enhance their chances in international competition.
